

prepare for this reality but meet the challenge with confidence

Rec F B O A d O T e J b e considered the application of modern software and field four efforts of an industry that is not only exploring all

For Gen Z, social media is an ingrained part of their world.

T a A d U f C e W f e

One strategy is to identify either existing skills gaps or high demand for specific expertise needed on the jobsite and offer knowledge and skill, they become more flexible. They're easily example, you may need people skilled in operating excavating equipment at the beginning of an extensive infrastructure project. Or you may find you're short on workers who know labor shortage for the particular skills or experience you're back off to assess progress at different points throughout the Prioritizing skill development of existing employees shows

E ce J b e Sa e T Red ce W f e Ab e ce many infrastructure projects due for retrofitting and repair

First things first: Require safety training. It may sound obvious, projects. Especially for complex infrastructure projects, shifting

Take advantage of today's field technologies that can reduce exposure to physical and environmental hazards and potential multi-story buildings and difficult-to-access places that would

React T T e Lab S a e C a e e W P ac e P a what you can't recall or find. Cloud-based risk management handle certain materials—on the fingertips of those on-site pressure on existing site crews to meet the project completion curtain on the unseen defects and safety risks that exist in the open but also lurk behind walls, floors, and ceilings. You not only can see them but analyze them. The flexibility of the BIM model enables you to explore fixes directly within the model

About the Article _____ provides field-tested construction project management software for Any views and opinions expressed in this article may or may not reflect the (CMAA). By publishing this piece, CMAA is not expressing endorsement of the